

Twenty years of public health collaboration in Vietnam

Several UCGHR researchers recently participated in a concluding workshop for the long-standing Health Systems Research Project in Vietnam, in which we have worked together with Hanoi Medical University, Vietnam Health Strategy and Policy Institute, Karolinska Institute and the Nordic School of Public Health.

During the workshop, UCGHR Director Peter Byass was awarded an Honorary Professorship by Hanoi Medical University, presented by HMU President, Professor Nguyen Duc Hinh.

More details of the developments during the 20-year collaboration can be found in the Huffington Post.
